BOY SLAYERS IN FIGHT FOR LIVES

SENSATIONAL CHICAGO MURDER CASE IN FIRST STAGE

LEOPOLD AND LOEB RELY ON ALIENISTS

Counsel Makes First Move to Keep Them From Gallows.—Nine Insanity Experts Called in to Find Evidence For Defense.

Chicago.—To support the insanity theory, nine alienists have been employed to dig for evidence on which attorneys for Nathan Leopold, jr., and Richard Loeb, confessed murderers of 14-year-old Robert Franks, may concoct a defense which will cheat the gallows.

In the face of the defendants' boast that they killed for a "thrill," the insanity defense is the only recourse apparent for the legal talent employed by the millionaire fathers for the murderers.

On the eve of the opening of the trial there was strong indications that the defense would ask for a continuance of thirty days to further fortify for the attack of the state's attorneys. Also it appeared that in the jockeying for advantage, counsel for the defense would, if necessary, raise the question of jurisdiction and attempt to remove the place of trial to Indiana, since the body of the murdered victim was found crowded into a culvert just across the state line. This appears to loom as a last resort for delaying the wheels of justice, since the killers admit that their victim died within a few minutes after they crushed his skull with a padded iron bar.

If the defense is defeated in its plan for a sanity commission, and the murder case actually comes to trial, it is expected that from three to six weeks will be required to select a jury. Presentation by the state and an outline by the defense will occupy several days, and it is said four weeks or more will be required by the defense to present the special findings of its array of alienists. The most optimistic observers admit the case, if it is begun on the date assigned, will string along well towards the Christmas holidays. It is estimated the defense will expend two million dollars in an effort to save the murderers, and the expense to the taxpayers of Chicago and Cook county will be a big item.

FRENCH AND BRITISH CLASH ON GERMAN DEFAULT POINT

London.—The first setback of the interallied conferences came when an effort was made to thresh out the fundamental differences in the French and British views as to how to deal with possible German defaults under the Dawes reparations scheme and the method of inflicting penalties for such delinquencies. The British are striving to establish an agent general of reparations as a sort of grand jury for declaring defaults, while the French maintain that the authority of the reparations commission in this respect must not be impaired. Every British move to diminish the influence of the reparations commission has been met by stiff opposition from the French.

Between the two positions it is held that there should be a middle ground upon which the allies can meet, and Colonel James A. Logan, jr., the official observer of the United States, declared there is no reason to fear that an agreement will not be reached on the disputed points.

California Products Hit

Tokyo.—A British commercial attache here says the luxury tariff will increase the cost of living in Japan considerably, but the moral effect on the nation probably will be good. An American attache points out that California products are most affected—raisins, fruit and canned goods—although the general effect on American trade is slight.

Volcano Active Again

Honolulu.—Lava began flowing in the crater of Halemaumau Sunday afternoon for the first time since the severe eruptions in May. Lava fountains, including Old Faithful, began shooting their geysers from fifty to two hundred feet high, over a radius of several acres. Reflections from these displays have been visible for miles.

Imperial Valley Temblors

Brawley.—Slight earthquakes, which had been of daily occurrence here since July 17, shook Imperial valley at 2 and 9 o'clock Sunday morning. Both quakes were accompanied by rumblings noticeable before the arrival of the earth shock itself. No damage was reported.

U. S. VICE CONSUL IS VICTIM OF MOB

NOTE GIVES ASSURANCE OF PUNISHMENT FOR ASSASSINS

PERSIAN LEGATION SAYS REDRESS FORTHCOMING

American Official Beaten By Religious Fanatics Through Mistaken Identity.—Another American is Seriously Injured.

Washington.—Instructions were received by the Persian legation here from its government to express to the Washington government its deep regret over the killing of Vice Consul Ribert Imbrie by a native mob at Teheran and to state that the Persian government will do "all in its power to fulfill its duties in this case." The Persian government, it is added, is seeking "the guilty persons in the case and will take all possible steps to secure their punishment."

It was indicated that the outcome might be the demanding of an apology and the payment of indemnities in case Imbrie and Melin Seymour, also an American, who was seriously injured, were within their rights.

The state department received official word of the affair in a dispatch from American Minister Joseph S. Kornfield. The department in a statement summarizing the dispatch said that Imbrie was cut and beaten to death by a mob.

"The minister reports that some days throughout the city there had been denouncements of Bahais, a religious sect, and many religious demonstrations," says the statement of the state department. "It appears that the vice-consul, accompanied by Seymour, a prisoner in the consulate, stopped their carriage in front of one of these demonstrations and it was alleged that the vice-consul had taken pictures.

"The mob rushed upon him, crying out that he was a Bahais, and though the servant of an American missionary cried out that he was the American consul, the mob took no heed of the statement, and dragged them from the carriage and attacked them savagely. The minister adds that Seymour's condition is grave and he could make no statement."

Major Imbrie had been commissioned to take photographs in Persia for the National Geographical magazine.

Melin Seymour, according to the state department, was an oil driller in Persia, who became involved in an affair with American and Persian laborers in the oil fields and was sentenced to confinement by the American cansular court.

DUST KICKED UP BY GOATS CAUSES SCARE, ACCIDENTS

Santa Barbara.—A dust cloud stirred by a band of excited goats on Wheeler Springs road sent several people to the hospital, when mistaken by a rancher for smoke from an incipient forest fire. He notified Ranger Phillips, who started down the road horseback and collided with an automobile, injuring himself and the driver. A carryall rushing fire-fighters from Wheelers came suddenly upon the goats and the driver landed his vehicle on the top of a bowlder, bruising the occupants.

From the other end of the line, two cars, the drivers blinded, collided, the cars being wrecked, while the occupants escaped hurts. A ranch hand saw the dust and telephoned the settlement, bringing scores of men and boys to the scene.

McAdoo in Paris

Paris.—William Gibbs McAdoo intends to cut short his stay here. He had hoped to arrange talks with Premier Herroit, M. Clementel, the financial minister, and others, but all are now in London. He will probably attend the assembly of the League of Nations in September when Premier Herriot, Prime Minister MacDonald and Premier Mussolini will stage their attempt to invest the league with real powers on the problem of European security.

Bandit Kills Cripple

Chicago.—A grayhaired man lost his life because he was unable to lift a crippled arm above his head in response to the command of a youthful bandit. Two bullets—fired at such close range that they left black powder burns—crashed into his face and forehead and the victim fell to the floor dead. He was Frank H. Zahour, 53 years old.

AIR MAIL SERVICE

The Campbell Post Office is now supplied with the new air mai lstamps and as considerable interest is being manifested in the air mail service, the Post Office Departemnt is very desirous that all patrons of that branch of the service get the best possible returns. Whether or not the regular air mail stamps are used, mail should be endorsed "via air mail" in plain writing and the latest bulletin directs that it be placed just above the address and to the right.

Air mail must be fully prepaid also, at the rate of 8 cents an ounce, or fraction thereof, for each zone traversed.

Mail for foreign countries may also be sent via air mail to the port of dispatch. To countries to which our domestic rate of 2 cents an ounce or fraction thereof applies, the 8 cents an ounce rate is all that is needed, but for those countries calling for 5 cents an ounce, the rates are: First zone ounce or fraction, 11 cents; each aditional ounce or fraction, 9 cents.

Second zone: Ounce or fraction, 19 cents; additional onuce or fraction, 17 cents.

Third zone: First ounce or fraction, 27 cents, additional ounce or fraction, 25 cents.

It is not always true that the air mail will provide a quicker means of transportation. It depends on the railroad connections at either end of the journey and how for off the air route destination may be.

THE CALL FOR MEN

Never in history has there been a greater challenge to the world for stronger manhood and womanhood than at this critical epoch.

Critical only because we are not in the throes of war, but in the uncertainties of peace.

America has little to fear in holding its own in war; the greater question now confronts us of whether we can hold our own in peace. War calls for only one general factor—that of strength, represented in the physical forces of men and machinery, ships, food, supplies, ammunition, discipline and strong leadership. Peace, on the other hand, calls for an exhibition of strength in its higher meaning—a strength of morality, mentality, and spirituality.

Even more than this: by its very nature, peace fosters the more wholesome pursuits of science, literature, art, general education, and of sound statesmanship coupled with an inculcation of the principles of law enforcement and good government.

In war, we conquer the other fellow, physically. In peace, we conquer ourselves, mentally. This is the harder task.

The call is for MEN and for WOMEN.

Men to inaugurate; women to guide.

Men to initiate; women to palliate.

Men to fight; women to soothe and heal.

Men to dare and conquer; women to pray and forgive.

Youth, in its own simple sphere, cries out for guidance; or crying not, needs it.

Fashion, decreeing the product of its own ecstasy, must needs a curtailment of its own follies and fancies.

Speed, in its unchecked fervor seeking efficiency and the satisfaction of social emergencies, runs wild and needs regulation.

Hordes of untrained and untried "Americans" knock at our gates, and must either be told the doors are shut, or if opened, must close behind a multitude safe for posterity and the nation that is to be.

Education, high as it may seem in the plane of efficiency, is yet only on the trail to its ultimates.

Religion—misunderstood, misquoted and maligned, calls for a clearer expression and a lessening of differences of opinion that vie with the oceans' gaps.

Labor and industry need men and a commoner understanding.

Agriculture needs men, in a physical sense to garner its harvests, and for a nobler conception of this basic industry that will lead to sympathetic aid in its perpetuation and distribution of its products.

The world needs MEN. Let's send in our order today!

THE WEATHER AND THE MAN

That weather has a great influence upon the activities of people can not be denied. On a bright, sunshiny day, business usually is good. At least we feel optimistic about things generally, and when we give voice to the expression "Fine Day", we are spreading the gospel of cheer, which rebounds a hundred fold. Climate has long contributed to the success of nations and moulds the characteristics of their people. Summer and winter resorts thrive upon the gifts of Nature. And yet, we are inclined to frown and scold things generally when the weather man doesn't treat us just as well as might be.

The story is told of the man who, upon arriving at Campbell. said to a barber, "Fine day, isn't it?" "Yes," said the barber, "it is this way every day in California." The man next went into a drug store, and said to the druggist, "It's a fine day, isn't it?" "Sure," said the druggist, "It's this way every day in California." Finally the man met an old hound dog that someone had brought out from Missouri about six months before. The man said to the dog, "Fine day, isn't it." The old hound looked at him and———this story may be continued next week. Anyhow, be thankful for the benevolence of the Creator in bringing so many bright days, which are all too easily forgotten in remembering the comparatively few dreary ones of the year.

Some folks do not seem to be worrying much about the future. Maybe they are too green too burn.

Authorities investigated the drowning of Vernon de Hoog, 10, in a private swimming pool maintained in Los Angeles by a Hindu cult. The boy was said to have been seized with cramps while swimming.

As soon as congress votes money to make extensive operations possible, the war department plans development of Mather field near Sacramento as an air service depot for the entire Pacific coast.

Blanche McLain, 10-year-old girl of Guerneville, rescued 8-year-old Donald Lark from drowning in the Russian river. Campers propose her as a candidate for the Carnegie medal.

The body of a well-dressed man was found lying on the beach near the West garrison of Fort McDowell, San Rafael. All marks of identification had been destroyed.

The Napa county supervisors have agreed to spend $36,000 for bridge and road work and have let contracts for five bridges and two important pieces of road work; and purchased four small parcels of land for road building.

Deny Freight Rate Cut

Washington.—Proceedings looking to reduction in transportation rates on grain, grain products and hay have been dismissed by the interstate commerce commission, which held that improving financial conditions have removed the producers' need for rate cuts. The majority, in explaining its conclusions, expressed serious doubt whether farmers would not in many instances lose from impaired railroad service more than they could possibly gain from a reduction rates.

LIVE TO BE 100

WHEN we older folk were younger we were told that the average expectation of life was 45 years. Now that we have reached 45 or more, the average has been raised to 60 years. That's encouraging. Science did it. The world do move. Perhaps if we hang around long enough we will live forever—(That's pretty nearly an Irish "bull," is'nt it?

Coming down to details, the State Health Bulletin of July 12 says:

"Part of the added years of life that we enjoy are due to the great variety of palatable and nutritious foods available at all times because of the canning industry. There is much to be gained by generous use of commercially canned foods of all kinds."

After that hearty endorsement of canned foods we can't refrain from divulging the secret that another shipment of JHN goods is headed our way, notably, the popular JHN TINY SUGAR CORN, the succulent JHN KRAUT, the tender JHN PEAS aud the appetizing JHN SOLID PACK TOMATOES.

ANOTHER VIEWPOINT ON AVENUE EXTENSION

Editor, Campbell Press,
Dear Sir:

Your article in the Press of July 18, about the extension of Campbell avenue, does not give any of the particulars of the situation regarding certain real estate interest, and for the betterment of Campbell interests at the expense of other property interests and mainly the blocking of the Bucknall road.

In the first place, the Bucknell road is as near a direct line to Campbell as is reasonably necessary and this road was established in 1848, and has been used by the public for about seventy-five years, and there are about twelve different tracts or partitions of land laid out to conform to this road and these lands have been paying taxes equal to lands fronting on account of county roads, and now, through seemingly willful neglect of these given promises, certain boosters have endeavored to block the county supervisors from accepting this road after the public has used it for many years at the expense of its owners.

The first U. S. M. Rural delivery established in U. S. A., first used this road owing to the fact that it best served this district near Campbell and every resident on the road signed for and welcomed this public betterment. And now, certain Campbell interests are trying to force a road through other property and great damage and disadvantage of the property which has equal or a greater value than all the property signed up by the interested parties. And the writer is, with other interested land-holders, only asking for the Campbell avenue boosters when their avenue is extended to the San Tomas road, to follow the San Tomas road about 870 feet by a reasonable curve to the Bucknall road which will lead out to the beautiful and well-paved Quito road, which then leads over well-paved roads to San Francisco and all places north, also direct to Los Gatos, the beautiful Santa Cruz grade with its many, many scenic curves, and to all places south, including the Big Trees, and the Big Basin, via our famous home town, Saratoga.

The extension of Campbell avenue through the El Quito Ranch would parallell the Bucknall road to a degree about one mile intercept the Prospect road it would then make a decided set-off at a dangerous point.

And it would leave a strip of land cut off from the El Quito ranch about 870 feet at one end and came to a point at the other end.

Now if your committee would carelessly impair the value of the very finest piece of land in the Santa Clara valley, they certainly deserve promotion.

Yours very respectfully,
E. L. Fellows.

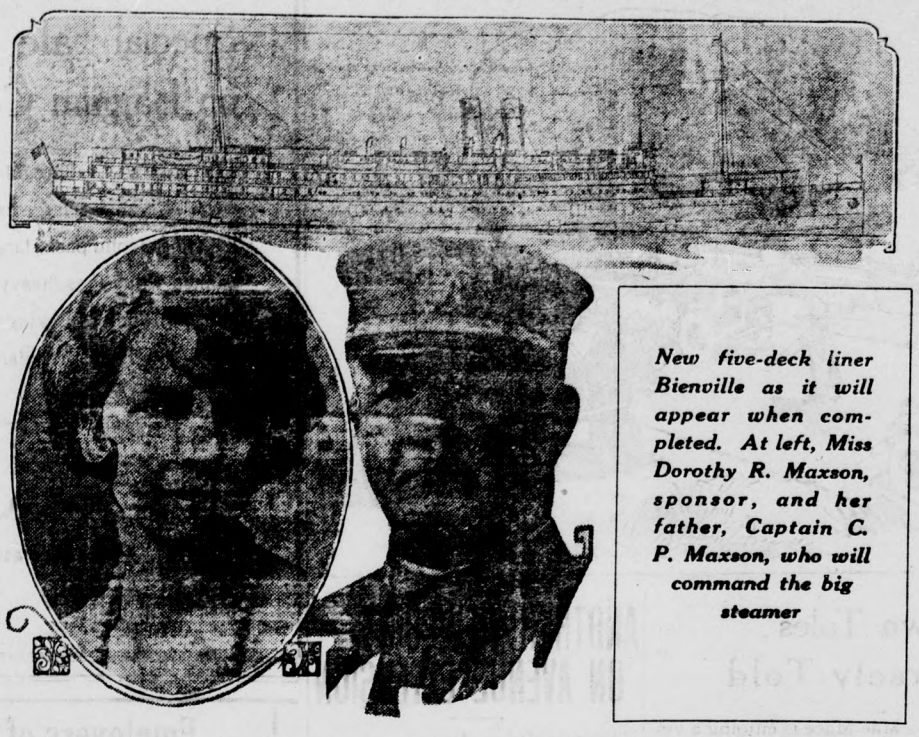
Finest Steamer Since War Launched for S. P. To Improve Water-Rail Service to the West



New five-deck liner Bienville as it will appear when completed. At left, Miss Dorothy R. Maxson, sponsor, and her father, Captain C. P. Maxson, who will command the big steamer

TACOMA, July 16.—Establishing what is declared to be a new speed record for construction of such a large and modern craft, the steamer Bienville, new queen for the Southern Pacific's Atlantic fleet, was launched today at the Todd Drydock and Contruction company's plant. The keel was laid 4½ months ago.

The steamer, which will carry both passengers and cargo on the important New York-New Orleans run, connecting with the Sunset Limited to and from the Pacific coast, is 445 feet in length. It is to be the finest and best equipped of any vessel launched since the war.

Named for Jean de Bienville, noted French general who in 1718 founded the city of New Orleans, the new steamer was sponsored by Miss Dorothy R. Maxson of West Mystic, Conn., attractive daughter of Captain C. P. Maxson, senior captain of the Southern Pacific's ocean service, who will command the Bienville.

Captain and Mrs. Maxson and their daughter headed a delegation of railroad and steamship officials and Pacific coast business men who visited Tacoma today for the launching, as the guests of J. A. Eves, president of the Todd company.

It is expected the Bienville will be in readiness in November for her trial trip to the Atlantic coast preparatory to delivery to the Southern Pacific at New York. A short time later she will take her position as flag ship of the fleet forming part of the commercially important route between the Pacific and Atlantic coasts.

The steamer cost in excess of $2,000,000. She is to be a five-deck ship, with turbine engines capable of developing 7,100 horsepower, driving the steamer at a sustained speed of 16 knots an hour. There will be accommodations for 237 first cabin and 111 steerage passengers.

Southern Pacific service, providing "100 golden hours at sea" between New York and New Orleans and by rail through the romantic south and southwest to and from the Pacific coast, is attracting large numbers of passengers. These include many tourists visiting California, Arizona, New Mexico and other states.

Freight steamers of the company also operate between New York and Galveston, where connection is made with the rail lines serving New Mexico, Arizona and California. New low rates recently were authorized by the interstate commerce commission for commodities over this route.

To Untie Hard Knot

Sometimes a knot seems to defy all one's efforts to get it untied. Here is a plan by means of which a knotted cord, strap, shoe string, or whatever it may be, can be loosened. Put something hard under the knot and then pound it well with a hammer. Beat the knot on all sides. Then drop on the knot a little very hot water, or, if possible, dip the knot into scalding hot water for a few minutes. In most cases it will be found that the knot can then easily be picked apart with the fingers. When it is still a little hard to move use a skewer or similar instrument to pull the knot apart.

It is the belief of the officials of the state mining bureau that activity at the Bullard Bar dam will add greatly to the state's gold production. THE UNIVERSAL CAR

YOSEMITE ECONOMY RUN RECORDS prove ZEROLENE increases gasoline mileage

For years this Company has claimed that Zerolene, because it lubricates better, enables the average car to go about five per cent farther on a gallon of gasoline than when other oils are used.

A few weeks ago this claim received the most remarkable confirmation in the results of the annual Los Angeles-Camp Curry (Yosemite) Economy Run. Six out of the seven trophies offered, including the sweepstakes, were won by Zerolene-lubricated cars. The sweepstakes winner, an Overland Model 92, driven by Joe Bozzani, traveling the 400 miles of desert and mountain roads, averaged 29.36 miles to the gallon of Red Crown gasoline—an achievement which the 1924 contest rules made all the more remarkable as they forbade coasting or stopping the engine.

Right here, in the official records of this economy run classic, is your answer to the oil question. Why pay tribute to the superstition that eastern oil, merely because it costs more and is made in the East, is in some mysterious way "better?" Experienced drivers, out to make records, don't share that superstition—why should you?
